MONDAY, JUNE 21, 1915.

The British cruiser Newcastle is reported from a port in Peru. The British government, it will be noted, is still maintaining "tin pots" in the Pacific to do what Canadian cruisers should be doing.

Telephone rates were boosted last year because business was increasing. Business has certainly not been increasing since the boost occurred, yet the department fell behind by five thousand dollars last month and now owes an accumulated deficit of fourteen thousand dollars. After sustaining a boost in rates last year because business had increased is the subscriber to be faced with a boost this year because business has not increased?

Portland reports that 5,000,000 feet of Oregon spruce have been shipped to Europe to build aeroplanes since the war began, most of it going to Great Britain. What is the Canadian trade and commerce department doing to amuse itself? Is it aware that spruce grows in Canada as well as in Oregon? If so, why have Canadian mills stood idle during the winter while Oregon mills were turning out material for British aeroplanes?

Dispatches say Berlin will answer the Washington note after Dr. Dernberg has got home and been consulted. Why all the hurry? It would be a much more striking expression of contempt for neutral opinion and the rules of war to postpone the reply until a special commission had been sent over to investigate and report as to whether public opinion in the United States approves or disapproves of President Wilson's stand. Besides, it would give the submarines time to get a few more passengers liners.

Mr. Bryan proposes universal extension of the peace treaty plan as a preventive of war. The plan would prevent war only if all nations were prepared to sign peace treaties and live up to them. And when that state of universal peaceableness is reached peace treaties will not be required to prevent war. The fact that peace treaties—or some sort of restrictions—is needed is proof that treaties cannot prevent war unless backed up by force. The man who has to be bound over to keep the peace would not keep the peace unless he knew there was a policeman around.

A million bushels of Canadian wheat is being shipped by the Dominion government to New Zealand via Montreal. If the wheat was not bought in Western Canada it should have been, and if bought in Western Canada why is it not sent by the Pacific, and not by the Atlantic? Either the Canadian farmer or the New Zealand buyer loses the difference in the cost of shipping a million bushels of wheat from the prairies to Atlantic ports and thence half way round the world to New Zealand and the cost of shipping a million bushels of wheat from the prairies to Pacific ports and thence by direct route to New Zealand. A parallel transaction would be for the Dominion government to buy shells for the British army in Ontario and ship them via Vancouver and the world route.

CARS TO CALDER.

Amongst the many outlying sections of this far-flung land is that lying north of the Grand Trunk tracks and in the vicinity of the shops, known as Calder and Elm Park. The population is about 5,000, and its revenue is chiefly derived, directly or indirectly, from the work incident to the Grand Trunk shops and divisional point. The distance north of Jasper west of Ninth street, is about three miles. There is a street railway service on 216th street as far north as Alberta avenue—that is within one mile of Calder. The radial railway has laid track from the corner of Alberta and 24th street west a quarter of a mile to 27th street, then north one mile on 27th street then east a quarter of a mile on Braemore avenue, in all a mile and a half of track connecting the present terminus of the Edmonton street railway with the incorporated village of Calder, but no service is in operation on this line. Some time ago the radial company put in the posts necessary for the stringing of trolley wires, but the wires have not yet been strung and there is no operation of the tracks. The people of Calder communicate with the city either by walking a mile to Alberta avenue or by taking the Grand Trunk train which makes a stoppage at day between the C.N.R. station First street and the shops at Calder. It would seem that with a street railway track in existence the radial would be of great advantage. The city and radial railway would meet together with a view to establishing a service direct from Calder to the city on terms and conditions that would be advantageous to all parties concerned. There is no doubt that such a scheme would be a great convenience to the people of Calder and Elm Park, if there was a regular street car service from their immediate vicinity to the city, nor is there any question that such a service would be of advantage to the business interests of the city, as well. The track of the radial company is there and is earning nothing, and the post of the trolley wires are set up, ready to receive the wires if they were in the wires. Would not it be possible for the city to secure an arrangement with the radial company that they allow the city to use the tracks and pay a nominal consideration; and that the city uses the trolley wires for the necessary mile and a half, and have a through service from Calder to the city, which would be a great convenience and advantage both to Calder and the city?

It would not be at all necessary that such a service if installed should add another car to the costly division service on Jasper avenue. If a car or cars were run at stated intervals along Jasper avenue, the public demanded, from Calder to the corner of 24th and Athabasca as a service apart from the rest of the city service, upon which a certain sum fare would be charged and the fare would be charged, and there would be no need of running cars when there was no one to be served and therefore there would be no reason why the service would not be made to pay. On such a basis with the "you-enter-principle," there would be no need for a conductor in addition to a motorman. With entrance only at the front and with entrance to the rear, the motorman could pass as they entered the car. The total cost would be reduced to a minimum, the people of Calder would be accommodated and the city not only would not lose money but would make money out of the service.

Besides the population at Calder and Elm Park there is a considerable additional population at Dunvegan yards, three-quarters of a mile west of the corner of 27th street and Braemore avenue, north of the Grand Trunk tracks. While the Dunvegan shops and bars have the benefit of a street service on the St. Albert road, there is no street car, and many consumers would be convenient for the people there to walk three-quarters of a mile to get the street car at certain convenient street intervals. Hence, there would be no reason why an accurate schedule of fares from each end should not be maintained.

The Zulus are anxious to go to Europe and try conclusions with the Turks. The imps should be able to deal with the imps.

Winning Telegram: "It should also be borne in mind that the government, before the royal commission have admitted to having perjured themselves," to save the Telegram's friends.

The militia department is evidently not the only branch of the military that is "splendidly wonderful." It certainly is, considering the scant encouragement that it has got from the militia department and the government.

With the sole possible exception of A. Patterson, M.P.P., the people of Grande Prairie, of the north western country generally, and of the city of Edmonton, will welcome the news that contracts are being let for the construction of the branch of the Dunvegan rail-way into Grande Prairie.

A city that has sent four thousand men to fight the Indians in the country is surely entitled to the courtesy of a reply when its mayor respectfully requests the minister of militia to allow another battalion to be recruited and trained in the city. Military recruitment is a matter of such necessity that Edmonton recruits him to stay to Calgary to be trained. There are no military reasons why the minister of militia should treat the city of Edmonton, or the person of its mayor, with contempt.

Second Division Teams Won Saturday's Baseball Games

SPORTING NEWS

Edited by F. H. MCPHERSON

FORT DEFEATED ESDALE-LAIRD

Home Team Won Exhibition Game on Saturday Evening by 13 to 6 Score

Special to the Bulletin.

VICTORY FOR VANCOUVER.

The Fort chattered up another win to their credit here Saturday evening by defeating Esdale-Laird, 13-6.

Bartley pitched a good game for the visitors, who had a hard time when he was taken out of the box and replaced by Billie Powers, who had to go to the mound, but they had scored one run on him. Billie was then relieved by Powers, who and he was replaced at shortstop

by Tom.

The Fort pitched well for the home team, striking out nine men and only losing two runs, but the visitors at short made the most spectacular coup of the evening.

The Knights of Columbus won for the second time in succession.

The second game was between the Knights of Columbus and Law students.
